Carleton S. Finkbeiner, Mayor
One Government Center
Toledo, Ohio 43624

Dear Mayor Finkbeiner:

At the end of each year it is appropriate to review the events and highlights of the past twelve months. This reflection allows for the re-evaluation of goals and objectives which are the cornerstones in defining and planning for the future. It is with these concepts in mind that I am proud to present the Toledo Police Department's Annual report for 1994.

There is a new approach for the 1994 Annual Report. The magazine style highlights the events of the year in both a written and pictorial format. It is organized along functional areas in order to give the reader a better perspective of the tasks undertaken by the officers of the Toledo Police Department.

If challenges drive the human spirit, the City of Toledo and its Police Department are surely not lacking incentive. Fiscal restraints, the implementation of community based policing, and the ever increasing needs of our citizens reflected in their calls for service, continued to challenge our enterprise and energy.

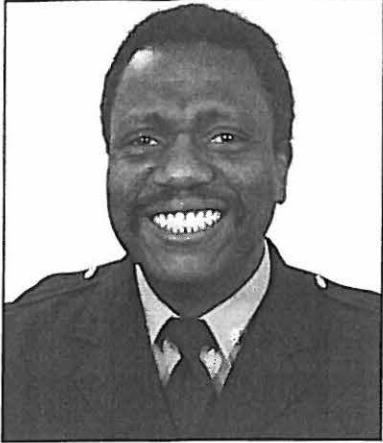

Coping with the basic police mission of preventing crime and maintaining order under these circumstances is difficult. The traditional method of delivering police service based on law and its enforcement is not working. It is apparent a new approach is necessary if we are to keep our cities safe and improve the quality of life for our citizens. This new approach is called community policing which stresses partnerships with our citizens.

I am proud of the men and women of the Toledo Police Department who, in good times and bad, continue their efforts to make Toledo a better place to live. I salute their dedication and loyalty. I can only be optimistic as we enter 1995, buoyed by the professionalism of these men and women.

Sincerely,

Gerald T. Galvin

TOLEDO POLICE DIVISION ORGANIZATIONAL CHART

A YEAR IN REVIEW

The year 1994 saw many changes within Toledo City Government and within the Toledo Police Division. The City's form of government changed from that of a City Manager Form of Government to that of a Strong Mayor Form of Government. The Chief of Police, Marti Felker, retired soon after the first of the year. Chief Felker served the City for more than twenty six years and was Chief of Police from 1987 until his retirement. Deputy Chief James Wiegand then became the Acting Chief of Police.

The Department of Police Operations was created March 14, 1994. At that time, the former Division of Police was elevated to department status and the Chief of Police was elevated to Director level, reporting directly to the Mayor.

In the spring, Acting Chief Wiegand implemented foot patrol in neighborhood areas where community development corporations sought community policing strategies. A study of Department operations by the Corporation for Effective Government began.

Sixty trainees graduated from the Police Academy in April after twenty weeks of training.

On a more somber note, Deputy Chief Thomas Vetter passed away on June 29, 1994, serving the City for seventeen years. Deputy Chief Richard Koperski retired on June 30, 1994 after 25 years of service.

On July 25, 1994, Gerald T. Galvin was selected as the first Director of Police Operations after a nationwide search. Chief Galvin soon expanded community policing to a Department wide philosophy.

In October, Captains Nathanael Ford and Michael Navarre were promoted to Deputy Chief.

Also in October the Department began providing all personnel with community policing training. An Academy class of twenty nine trainees started this month.

Command staffing levels were reduced in November when the City and Toledo Police Command Officers Association completed negotiations of a bargaining agreement. The previous agreement had expired on January 1, 1994.

In conjunction with the community policing philosophy, the Department began to formulate plans to decentralize services in an attempt to bring the police closer to the citizens. The first district station, Scott Park, would open January 1, 1995.

POLICE ADMINISTRATION

The Police Administration consists of sections considered part of the Chief's Staff. These sections act as direct support to the Police Chief and assist in the daily operation of the Department. The administrative sections include Planning & Inspections, Internal Affairs, Personnel & Fiscal Affairs, and Training. Organizationally, the Administration is under the command of the Assistant Chief of Police.

The Planning and Inspections Section developed and implemented a revised booking procedure to reduce the cost of booking arrestees. The section developed procedures to comply with the new DUI/SOL law.

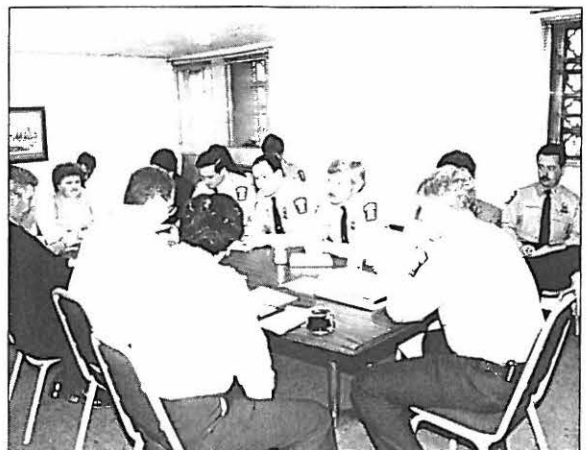

This section was successful in obtaining financial assistance through grant awards from both the Federal and State Government. The U.S. Department of Justice awarded the Toledo Police Department $1,467,347 under the Police Hiring Supplement Program. This resulted in the hiring of 18 additional officers.

The Police Department was also awarded a grant distribution totaling $58,585 from the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council through the State of Ohio Office of Criminal Justice Services' Byrne Memorial Drug Control Grant Program. This money is used to conduct special community policing programs.

Building renovation continued in an effort to improve the efficiency and appearance of the Safety Building space.

The Corporation for Effective Government (C.E.G.) began a thorough study of the Department and its operations.

The Personnel & Fiscal Affairs Section computerized many of its forms and functions utilizing new computer technology and training. The section also made changes in record keeping to conform with the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA).

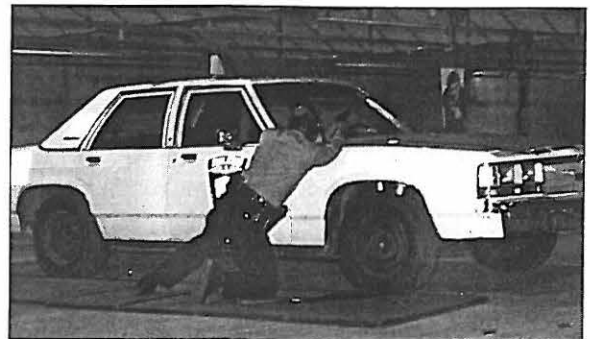

The latter part of 1994 saw the Personnel & Fiscal Affairs functions separate, in preparation for the 1995 decentralization.

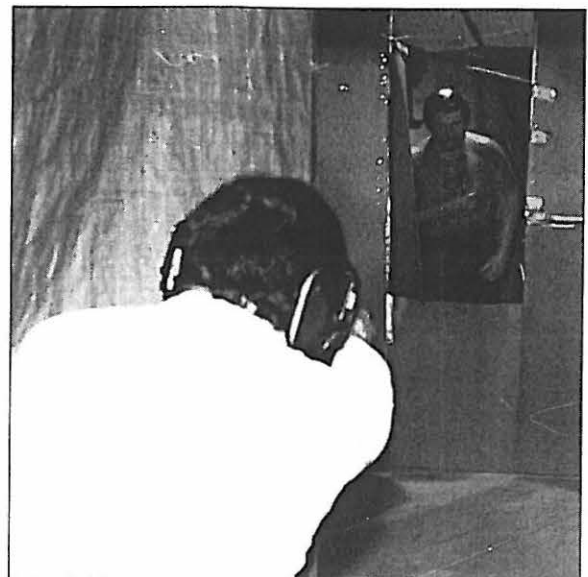

The 47th Police Class was appointed on October 14, 1994 with 29 candidates.

The Training Section began Department wide training on the community policing philosophy.

The 46th Police Class of 60 cadets graduated on April 29, 1994.

FIELD OPERATIONS BUREAU

The Field Operations Bureau is the largest bureau in the Department and is responsible for providing police service to the community 24 hours a day. The bureau is commanded by a Deputy Chief who is responsible for four uniformed shifts, the Traffic Section, the Harbor Patrol, the Hazardous Devices Group, the Directed Policing Unit and an administrative staff.

The 1994 achievements of the Field Operations Bureau included the initial implementation of community policing, increased foot patrols, a walk-ride program and building security inspections. A gang task force was placed in operation to combat the increased number of gang related incidents. A driving under influence/suspended operators license (DUI/SOL) Unit was established.

Shift Officers respond to calls for service that are both criminal and public service related. Officers also address other needs of the community that arise in the neighborhoods. During the second year of the bicycle patrol program it was redeployed to Ottawa Park. Directed policing officers were trained in first aid and trauma treatment. The Field Training Officer Program completed its second year.

The Traffic Section participated in the Lucas County Traffic Safety Task Force and other events to promote traffic safety in the community. Grants were obtained for DUI enforcement, speed enforcement, juvenile DUI enforcement, and multi-DUI offender enforcement. The Department participated in the Circle Toledo program, National Buckle-up campaign, high school mock crash demonstrations and other events.

The Harbor Patrol Unit experienced an increase in citations and arrests in 1994. Visual boat inspections and hazard checks also increased.

The Hazardous Devices Group was expanded by adding two trained patrol officers. Personnel are not assigned full time but are utilized as on-call personnel. Training occurs frequently to maintain a highly skilled and updated staff.

INVESTIGATIVE SERVICES BUREAU

The Investigative Services Bureau is the investigative branch of the Police Department. The primary objective of this bureau is to expend investigative efforts in interviewing victims and witnesses; locate, identify and preserve physical evidence; recover stolen property; identify and apprehend suspects; present cases to the prosecutor and assist in the prosecution of defendants.

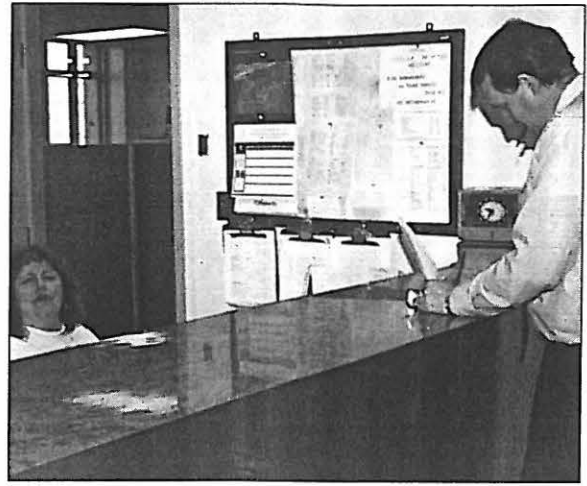

The Investigative Services Bureau consists of an administrative staff and four (4) sections. These sections are: Crimes Against Persons, Crimes Against Property, Youth Services, and Vice/Metro.

All sections had to deal with manpower shortages but were still able to yield a number of achievements.

The Investigative Services Bureau administrative staff is responsible for several important functions. One of which is the Crime Stopper Program. This program utilizes a phone line in which citizens are able to call anonymously the Police Department and report information to assist investigators attempting to solve a specific crime.

A second staff function is that of Court Liaison. This position's responsibility is two-fold. First, it provides better communications between the Police Department and the Prosecutors Office. Secondly, it controls unnecessary court overtime. In 1994, the Court Liaison eliminated 5,454 unnecessary court appearances. This resulted in a savings of approximately $381,780.

The Crimes Against Persons Section was able to maintain a homicide clearance rate above the national average. Additionally, more time was allocated for investigators to attend training to further upgrade their knowledge and skills.

The Crimes Against Persons Section consists of the following units: Robbery, Homicide, Personal Assault, and Scientific Investigations.

The Scientific Investigations Unit is responsible for processing major crime scenes and the administration of polygraph examinations. The unit has played a very important role in the number of cases which result in an arrest. Unit personnel played a vital role in the successful prosecution of a University of Toledo police officer charged with murder.

The Crimes Against Property Section was able to reduce the number of reported auto thefts by 12.5%. Investigators expanded their skills and knowledge by attending training seminars relating to specific crimes, as well as computer technology. This expertise led to numerous high profile cases being cleared by arrest.

The Youth Services Section participated in a National Youth Anti-Violence Campaign. A forum was set up which included juvenile court judges, police officers, and students.

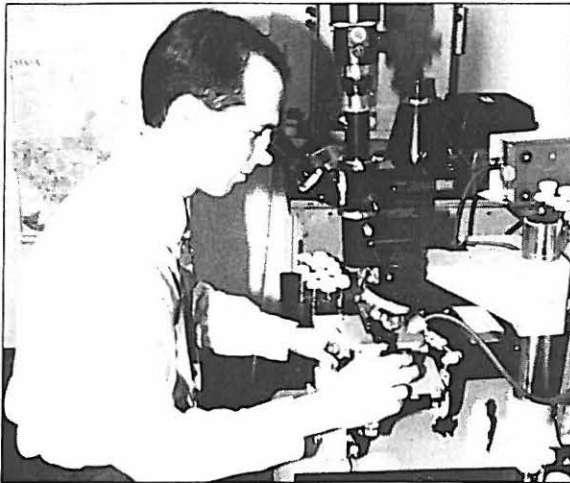

Due to increased violence at school dismissal times, a task force was established to prevent this disorderly behavior. This resulted in section personnel performing surveillance at targeted junior and senior high schools.

SUPPORT SERVICES BUREAU

The Support Services Bureau is comprised of sections that act as direct support to the daily operations of the Police Department.

Organizationally, the Support Services Bureau is under the command of a Deputy Chief and consists of the Forensic Laboratory, Records Section, Communications Section, Property Management Section, and the Community Affairs Section.

There have been a number of achievements within the Support Services Bureau.

The Forensic Laboratory was able to hire one additional criminalist to assist in the demand of processing in excess of 2,000 cases.

The Records Section, in an effort to meet the goal of civilianization, hired sixteen (16) intermediate clerks, allowing officers to work where sworn personnel are needed. Several officers assigned to the Records Section were then redeployed to other areas of the Department.

The Communications Section, through the use of the Differential Police Response (DPR) strategy was able to reduce its response times for immediate response calls by nearly 2.5 minutes.

Outstanding Crime Prevention for the State of Ohio, by the Ohio Crime Prevention Association. It was also praised for its school safety, crime prevention, and innovative programs such as the Mock Trial, Safe-T-City for Developmentally Disabled Youth, and the nationally recognized Telefact Line.
