2004 Annual Report

LAW ENFORCEMENT CODE OF ETHICS

As a Law Enforcement Officer, my fundamental duty is to service mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided in me in my official capacity will be kept secret unless the revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession... law enforcement.

CITY OF TOLEDO

DEPARTMENT OF POLICE OPERATIONS

Dear Citizens of Toledo,

As Chief of Police, I am proud to present to you the 2004 Annual Report for the Toledo Police Department. The information contained within this report will provide you with some insight into the organization of the department, highlight activities that occurred during the year, spotlight various officers and provide year-end statistics.

As every concerned citizen knows, 2004 was a tough budget year both for the State of Ohio and for the City of Toledo. Tough economic decisions had to be made to provide a balanced budget, including the threat of safety forces lay-offs, the elimination of some police department units and the elimination of School Resource Officers. Fortunately for our community, the administration was able to balance the budget without police officer lay-offs and the department was able to maintain a presence in the schools. I am proud to say that even during these challenging times, the members of the Toledo Police Department continued to provide excellent, professional service to the community.

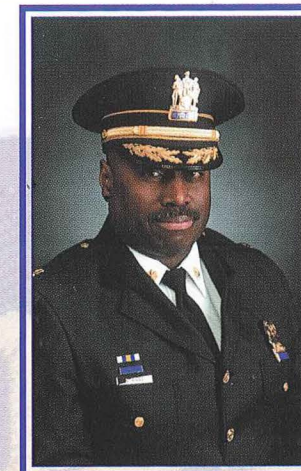

In 2004, the police department had many noteworthy accomplishments. First, our overall crime rate decreased for the third year in a row. Secondly, participation in the Blockwatch Program continued to increase, with 141 active groups. Third, a Police & Community Exchange Workshop was held that provided an opportunity for the community to have an open dialogue with local law enforcement. Finally, an innovative program was implemented by the department that provides video surveillance equipment to local carryouts with financial need.

As we enjoy these successes, the members of the Toledo Police Department know that there is still work to be done. As we move into 2005, we will continue to work with our community to make Toledo a safer place to live and work.

Sincerely,
Michael J. Navarre

Every summer the Toledo Police Department offers Safe-T-City to children entering kindergarten. During the 20-hour course, children learn good safety habits, including safety from strangers, fire safety, railroad safety, pedestrian safety and water safety.

Safe-T-City is taught by certified teachers and Toledo Police Officers Earl Barry, Starr Mitchell-Chong and Penny Halcomb.

Children attending in 2005, will discover that the model city for Safe-T-City has been redeveloped. Students from Libbey High School have spent the year constructing and painting new buildings for the children to use.

Officer Earl Barry has been a Toledo Police Officer since October 16, 1972. He is currently assigned to the Community Services Section as a Kindergarten through 6th Grade Officer. During the summer, when school is out of session, he helps coordinate the police department's Safe-T-City program.

When interacting with children, Officer Barry states that he likes to focus on portraying a police officer as being a friend. He states that television often portrays police officers in a different light and he wants to be seen as a POSITIVE ROLE MODEL.

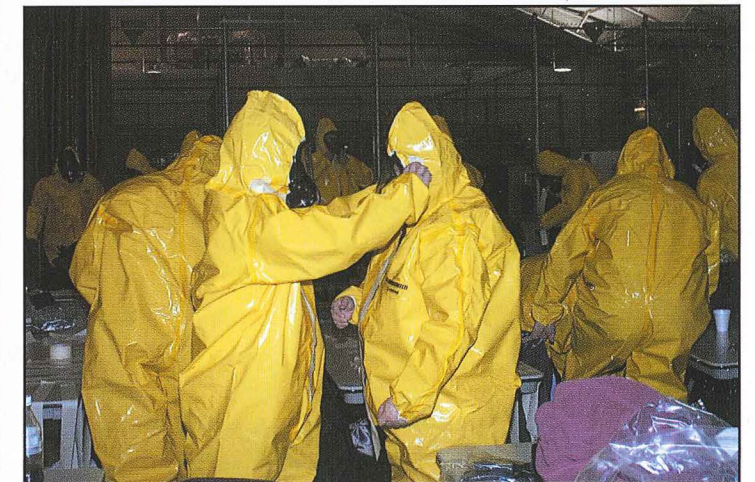

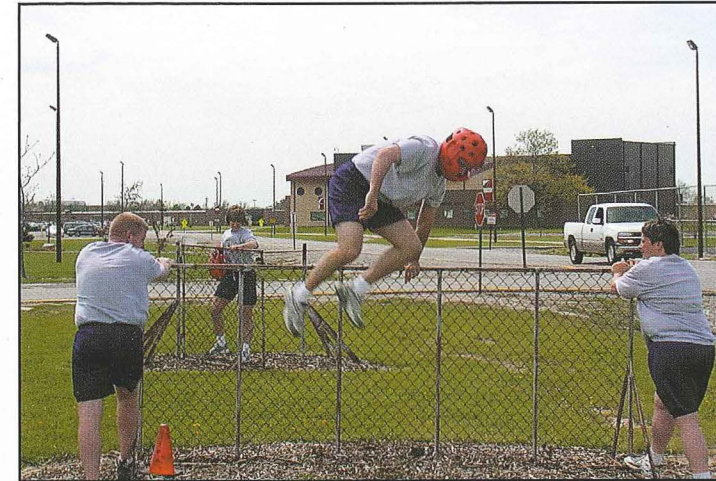

In honor of his years of dedication to Safe-T-City and the children of Toledo, two streets in the model city were renamed to 'Earl' and 'Barry' streets.

The Toledo Police Department operates a police academy at Owens Community College. Individuals who desire to become Toledo Police officers must first pass a civil service examination, background check, medical examination, psychological evaluation, physical fitness test and an interview.

Upon selection, trainees will attend the police academy for 25 weeks. They receive instruction in the basics necessary to become a police officer, including the legal system, traffic enforcement, defensive tactics, firearms, building searches, crowd control, and weapons of mass destruction. Upon completion of the academy, probationary officers are then placed with an experienced field training officer for four months of on-the-job training.

OFFICER SHELLI KILBURN

OFFICER SCOTT STERLING

On February 26, 2004, off-duty Officer Brenda Sarahman was on her way home from work when she spotted a vehicle that was used earlier in a robbery. She followed the vehicle and contacted the dispatcher to apprise them of her situation. Area crews responded and gave chase. Three suspects fled from the vehicle and were pursued on foot. The driver and one of the passengers were quickly apprehended. Officer Kilburn chased the third suspect. Catching up to him, she ordered him to take his hands out of his pockets and to get on the ground. As the suspect removed his hands, he pulled a gun out pointing it at Officer Kilburn. Officer Kilburn grabbed the suspect's gun, but he pulled away and fired a shot. Officer Kilburn returned fire with her service weapon, striking him once in the chest. Officer Kilburn's gun jammed on the first shot and before she could clear it, the suspect fired three more times, seriously injuring Officer Kilburn.

Officer Kilburn radioed for help, stating that she had been shot. Officer Scott Sterling ran to the scene and immediately pointed his weapon at the suspect. The suspect turned his weapon on Officer Sterling who then shot the suspect. Due to the actions of all officers involved, three dangerous criminals were removed from the street. Officer Kilburn has recovered from her injuries and has returned to full duty. Officer Kilburn is awarded the Blue Star Medal and the Medal of Valor. Officer Sterling is awarded the Medal of Valor.
