HISTORY

The area around what is now Toledo was opened to pioneer settlement in 1794 after the Battle of Fallen Timbers, a conflict between white settlers and Native Americans that was fought nearby. Fort Industry, located at the confluence of Swan Creek and the Maumee River (what is now downtown), was settled after the War of 1812. Two villages, Port Lawrence and Vistula, were united in 1833 and named for Toledo, Spain. This newly consolidated community was incorporated as a city in 1837.

Message from the Chief

Chief Michael J. Navarre

On behalf of the Toledo Police Department, I am pleased to present the annual report for the year 2002. This report provides a summary of the department's activities and accomplishments, and also provides a snapshot of the people who are the Toledo Police Department.

2002 was a difficult year for the entire country. In the aftermath of September 11, 2001, most municipalities and government entities faced severe budget crises in the midst of an increasing demand for resources to prevent terrorism. Even during these difficult times, our officers displayed a renewed commitment to the community they serve. Advances were made in many areas of the department, both behind the scenes and on the front lines, all of which directly benefit the public.

Possibly the most important achievement of 2002 was our successful bid for accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies. This national recognition of excellence was the direct result of an intensive three-year effort on the part of the entire department to ensure compliance with 443 standards covering everything from policy, facilities, and equipment to operational procedures. The community can be very proud knowing that their police department has been recognized as being one of the very best in the nation.

Toledo Police Department

History:

The Toledo Police Department was founded in 1867, when the city's population reached 20,000. At that point, the Clerk of Council was instructed to begin paying salaries to police officers. Henry Breed was named Police Chief. One sergeant, one turnkey and thirteen patrolmen were hired. The annual salary for a patrolman was $720, or 14¢ per hour. Patrolmen were assigned to work fourteen hours on the day shift, and ten hours on the night shift, seven days a week.

Today, the City of Toledo has a population of 313,619 and covers 86 square miles. Three district stations, two substations and several neighborhood offices serve the residents of Toledo. The department has 689 sworn officers. The modern day "street" officer works eight hours a day, on a 4-day on & 2-day off work schedule.

What's New

In preparation for accreditation with the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc. (CALEA), a new department manual was created and distributed by the Accreditation Unit. In the fall of 2002, all sworn personnel attended mandatory manual training at the police academy.

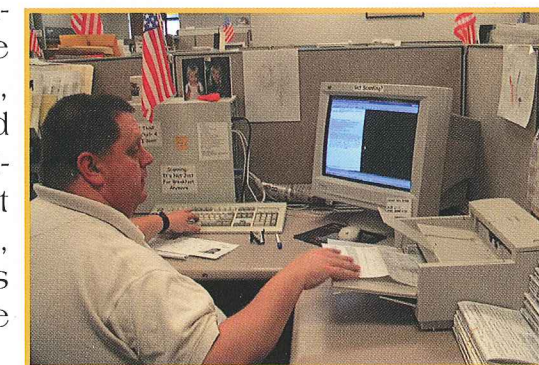

Officer Danja, a German shepard, is the department's second K-9 dog. Danja was born in Germany in 2002 and is trained to detect illegal drugs. Officer Danja's partner is Detective Brian Gaylord.

Lobo and the rest of the Mounted Patrol received a new home in 2002. A larger and improved Horse Barn was remodeled near the new Fifth Third Field, home of the Toledo Mud Hens AAA baseball team.

In 2000, the police department began scanning crime and accident reports into the computer for internal use. In February 2002, accident reports were placed online and made available to the general public. Citizens can obtain copies of traffic accident reports from the department website, www.toledopolice.com. Accident reports are usually available within 48 hours of the occurrence.

Fifth Third Field - Stadium Area Patrol

In April of 2002, the Toledo Mud Hens dedicated their new stadium in downtown Toledo. With the opening, the police department formed the Fifth Third Field Stadium Area Patrol. Working all home baseball games, the bike patrol is responsible for providing a preventative police presence. At one game, Officer Jeff Dorner spoke with Ohio Attorney General, Betty Montgomery, about the need for updated equipment. The department was soon provided a $30,000 check for this purpose.

Ohio Attorney General Montgomery presents Chief Navarre, Mayor Jack Ford and Council President Peter Ujvagi a check for the bike units

Formed in September 2002, the Mountain Bike (MTB) Unit works in areas known to have problems with drug sales and gang activity. They also patrol off-campus, student-housing areas around the University of Toledo. The unit is very effective in proactively handling the types of problems that normally result in calls for service that have continually plagued the targeted areas. The areas patrolled are determined by the officers' personal knowledge, citizens' complaints, crime statistics, and information received from district units. The unit is under the direction of Lt. Randy Pepitone.

Accreditation Process

In the beginning, then-Lt. Diana Ruiz-Krause and Officers Sandra Ceglarek and Keith Carr.

Accreditation involves compliance with 443 standards established by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc. (CALEA). The purpose of the Commission's accreditation is to improve delivery of law enforcement services. The benefits of accreditation include controlled liability insurance costs, administrative improvements, greater accountability from supervisors and increased governmental and community support.

In 1987, the Toledo Police Department first considered the concept of obtaining accreditation. A second, more intense attempt was begun in 1993. However, this task became daunting and the unit was disbanded. The department's third attempt to become an accredited agency started in 1998. The unit was comprised of Lt. Diana Ruiz-Krause, Officer Keith Carr and Officer Sandra Ceglarek. In May of 2001, Lt. Gerald Matwiejczyk took over as accreditation manager when Lt. Ruiz-Krause was promoted to Captain.

A static vehicle display was held at Scott Park

After several years of preparation, in the summer of 2002, the police department notified CALEA that the department was ready for the on-site review of compliance. Three assessors from CALEA, Deputy Chief Emerson C. Davis, Captain W. Craig Hartley, Jr. and Lt. Winnie L. Bailey, came to Toledo in December 2002 for the on-site assessment. The on-site assessment included a review of the department's compliance with all 443 standards, tours of all department facilities, a display of the department's vehicles & equipment and a forum for public comments.

During the on-site, some minor problems were found which were either immediately corrected or had the wheels set in motion for correction. Based upon what they found, the assessors recommended that the Toledo Police Department become an accredited agency with CALEA.

(Note: The department was Accredited by CALEA in March 2003.)

Investigative Services

The Investigative Services Division is under the command of Deputy Chief Michael Schroeder and provides the investigative and tactical functions of the department. Components of the Investigative Services Division are the Investigations Bureau, the Special Enforcement Bureau and the Northwest Ohio Bomb Squad.

Investigations Bureau

The Investigations Bureau is under the command of Captain Ronald Spann. The bureau is comprised of police detectives that handle the investigation of personal crimes such as rape, assault with a weapon, murder and robbery, as well as property crimes like burglary, theft, arson and auto theft. In 2002, crimes against persons offenses increased 4.3% over 2001 figures, while crimes against property offenses decreased 1.7% from 2001 figures.

Drugs confiscated as evidence concluded an investigation that led to the seizure of three kilograms of cocaine and $278,990 in US currency. The estimated street value of the cocaine was $600,000.

The Gang Unit is responsible for investigating gang-related incidents within the city. In 2002, the Gang Unit established a L.E.A.D.S. connection with the Ohio Attorney General's Gang Database, where over 100 adult gang members have been identified and entered into the system.

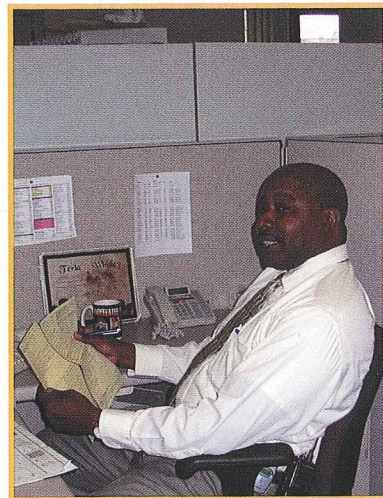

The Directed Patrol Section conducts surveillance and SWAT operations and provides tactical support for other areas of the department and for outside agencies. In addition, Directed Patrol officers provided security for 600 delegates and dignitaries attending the International Sister Cities Conference and provided dignitary protection for Sarah Ferguson, the Duchess of York.

Northwest Ohio Bomb Squad

In 2002, calls for service of the Northwest Ohio Bomb Squad (NOBS) were down 40% from 2001, due to a large number of calls received after the events of September 11th. In 2002, the squad responded to 28 actual calls for items or hoaxes. Numerous grenades, military rounds and items of ammunition were recovered and disposed of.

Special Enforcement Bureau

The Special Enforcement Bureau is under the command of Captain Wesley Bombrys. It is made up of the Directed Patrol Unit, the Gang Unit, the Vice-Narcotics Unit, the Vice-Narcotics Interdiction Unit, the Metro Drug Task Force and the Forfeiture Unit. In 2002, the Vice-Narcotics Unit and Metro Drug Task Force made several large drug busts.

* On March 13, 2002, members of the Interdiction Unit seized cocaine with a street value of over $2,000,000 during an interdiction at the Fallen Timbers rest stop on the Ohio Turnpike.

* On March 14, 2002, members of the Interdiction Unit seized approximately 280 pounds of marijuana, with a street value of $480,000, that was being transported to the Toledo area from Arizona.

* On July 15, 2002, the Metro Drug Task Force

Administrative Services

The Administrative Services Division is under the command of Deputy Chief Linda Mason who is responsible for the management of various department functions through the Fiscal Affairs Bureau, Personnel & Public Affairs Bureau, the Training Section and the Planning and Research Section.

Fiscal Affairs Bureau

Under the command of Captain James Matthews, the Fiscal Affairs Bureau is responsible for preparing the department's annual budget. The Fiscal Affairs Bureau also has the responsibility for overseeing total expenditures and coordinating the purchase of equipment and supplies. In 2002, the department's budget was $63,669,121 for salaries, $683,806 for supplies, $3,939,181 for operating expenses and $219,025 for capital improvements. Capital improvement funds were used for the new Mounted Patrol building, replacement windows, and new laboratory equipment.

Personnel & Public Affairs Bureau

The Personnel and Public Affairs Bureau is under the command of Captain Michael Murphy. The bureau manages personnel services and benefits for all department employees and handles media relations and public interest news releases. Within this bureau are the Background & Recruitment Unit, the Civil Liabilities Office, the Tax Officer, the Toledo City Council Sergeant at Arms and the Employee Assistance Program.

Training Section

The Training Section is under the command of Lieutenant James O'Bryant. The section's primary responsibility is for the training of new recruits and department personnel. In 2002, the Toledo Police Department graduated the 54th basic academy class and began the 55th. An officer wellness program was started in 2002, with over 100 officers spending one day at a health facility where a physical evaluation was conducted and where the officers learned about proper nutrition and physical fitness.

Planning and Research Section

The Planning and Research Section is under the command of Lieutenant David Holt. This section performs a variety of functions including researching new ideas, laws, and methodologies; conducting policy review and development; pursuing and overseeing grants; producing various reports; assisting other units with projects; and making recommendations that assist management in decision making.

In addition to the annual report, one of the more prominent products of the Planning and Research Section was the Toledo Stat report. The Toledo Stat report is prepared bi-weekly for the chief of police and the mayor and represents a statistical review of eleven areas of the department, including overtime, budgeting, sick time, and homicides. Also falling under the umbrella of the Planning and Research Section are the Inspections Unit, the Accreditation Unit and the False Alarms Office.

Internal Affairs

The Internal Affairs Bureau is under the direction of Captain Diana Ruiz-Krause and reports directly to the chief of police and investigates complaints against or allegations of misconduct against department members. In 2002, there were 245 complaints against officers that were investigated by the Internal Affairs Bureau.

Sergeant Dave Mueller of Internal Affairs

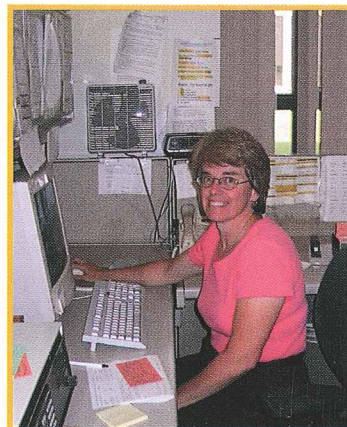

Support Services

The Support Services Division is under the command of Deputy Chief Donald Kenney and provides support functions for department operations. Components of the Support Services Division include the Records Bureau, the Communications Bureau, the Special Services Section and the Technical Services Section.

Records Bureau

The department's Records Bureau is under the supervision of Captain Jeffrey Hennessy. It is responsible for maintaining departmental records and reports. In 2002, the Records Bureau handled 87,589 crime/incident reports and 15,816 accident reports. In 2002, continual efforts were made to become more citizen friendly. The Records Bureau adjusted the hours that they were open to the public. The Records Bureau is now open seven days a week from 7am to 6pm. In addition, traffic accident reports are made available online to the general public from the department's web site, unusual items include a canoe, a basketball hoop and a dog treadmill. In 2002, a reorganization and modernization of the Property Management Unit was initiated. A large-item storage area was built in the Police and Fire Alarm Building, which will be used to store bikes and other large, bulky items.

Some of the weapons held in the property room

The Toledo Police Department Forensic Laboratory conducts analyses on items of evidentiary concern. In 2002, the lab received 1,781 cases that needed to be processed. As a way to reduce processing time of evidence, several items were sent to Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) for analysis. Plans were developed for the scheduled 2003 remodeling of the lab.

Technical Services Section

The Technical Services Section is under the supervision of Lieutenant Melvin Stachura. It is comprised of the Crime Analysis Office, Computer Resources, and the Video Office. In 2002, the installation of MDCs (Mobile Data Computers) into police vehicles was completed. The system "went live" giving officers the ability to view calls for service, message the dispatcher or other units, and run checks on individuals or vehicles.

Communications call-taker Tania Herrick

Communications Bureau

The department's Communications Bureau is under the supervision of Captain Louise Eggert. The Communications Bureau is comprised of civilian 9-1-1 operators and both civilian and police officer dispatchers. The department's goal of civilianization of the Communications Bureau continued in 2002, with leadership training being conducted for those operators interested in promotion to supervisor and with nine new civilian operators hired in December.

Special Services Section

The Special Services Section is under the supervision of Lieutenant David Schmidt. The two components of this section are the Property Management Unit and the Forensic Laboratory. The Property Management Unit is responsible for safekeeping and disposition of all property evidence received or confiscated by Toledo Police Officers. Currently, the police property room holds approximately 240,000 items. Some of the more

Operations

The Operations Division is under the command of Deputy Chief Derrick Diggs. Operations is the largest and most visible component of the department and is comprised of Street Patrol, the Mounted Patrol, the Traffic Section, the Harbor Patrol, the Bike Units, Community Services Section, Emergency Services Unit and the Aviation Unit. The functions of the Operations Division are divided between three district stations, two substations and several neighborhood offices.

Street Patrol

Street patrol is the most visible function of the department. Officers are assigned to work one of three district stations that serve the citizens of Toledo. They work from patrol cars, paddy wagons, bicycles or on foot.

Mounted Patrol

A highly visible unit, the Mounted Patrol is used in various city neighborhoods, in the Central Business District, at community events and at parks throughout the city. In 2002, the Mounted Patrol moved to the new horse barn at 122 South St. Clair Street, near the new Fifth Third Field. The Mounted Patrol was awarded 2nd Place honors at the 19th Annual Mounted Patrol Colloquium held in Lexington, Kentucky.

The Mounted Patrol Unit practices for the Colloquium

Traffic Section

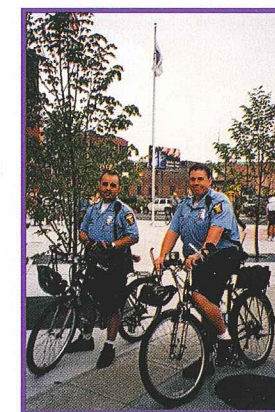

The Traffic Section is under the command of Lieutenant Louis Borucki. The Traffic Section is responsible for traffic enforcement, hit-skip accident investigations, taxi and tow truck inspections, commercial vehicle enforcement, towing inoperable vehicles, parade permits, red-light cameras, and adult school crossing guards. Traffic officers are trained Injury Crash Investigators and many are trained as Traffic Crash Reconstructionists. These officers investigate serious injury or fatal traffic crashes.

Harbor Patrol

The Harbor Patrol Unit is responsible for patrolling the waterways of Toledo. In 2002, the unit had 864 boat hours spent patrolling the waterways of Toledo.

Bike Units

In 2002, the department formed two bike units. The Fifth Third Field Stadium Area Patrol and the Mountain Bike Unit. The Fifth Third Field Stadium Area Patrol was formed in April 2002 to provide a visible police presence during Toledo Mud Hens baseball games. The Mountain Bike (MTB) Unit was formed in October 2002 and works in areas known to have problems with drug sales and gang activity. The MTB Unit also patrols off-campus, student-housing areas around the University of Toledo. The unit is very effective in proactively handling the types of problems that normally induce the calls for service and have continually plagued the targeted areas.

Officers Payne & Campbell

The MTB Unit displays money seized during an arrest

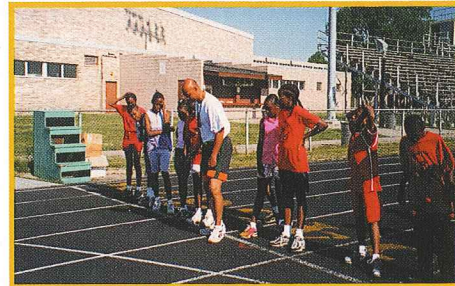

Emergency Services Unit

This unit's responsibility is to review the department's policy and procedures, to help educate the department and public and coordinate the department's response to an emergency situation.

Aviation Unit

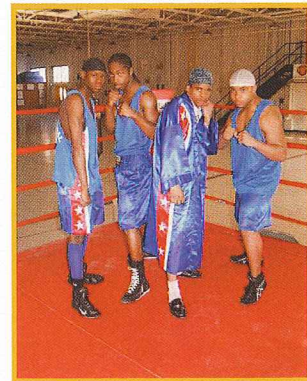

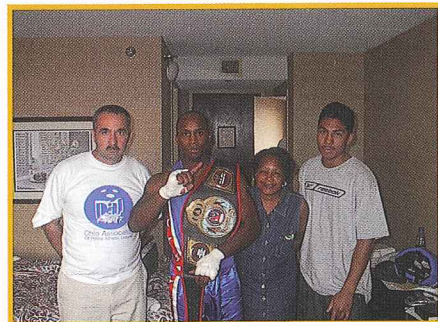

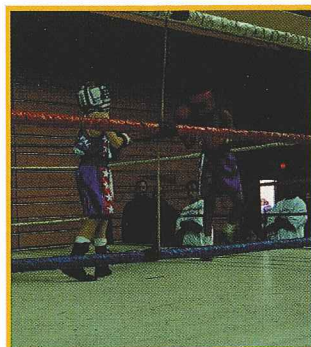

In 2002, the Aviation Unit completed its first full year of operation. The unit logged 691 flight hours. In 2002, the unit responded to 2,162 calls for service and assisted outside agencies 26 times.

Our Community

The Toledo Police Department's Police Athletic League (PAL) program promotes mutual respect between the police and Toledo's youth through various athletic and recreational activities. Under the leadership of Officer Mary Beth Stachura and with the help of volunteers and several agencies, baseball, basketball, track, boxing and cross country sports are offered to children who would not otherwise be able to participate.

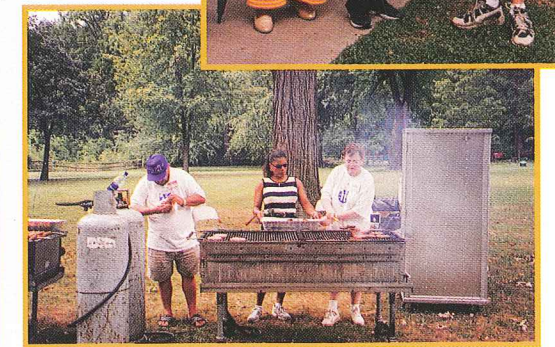

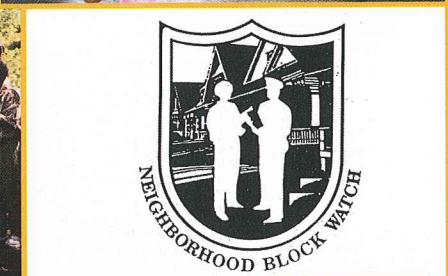

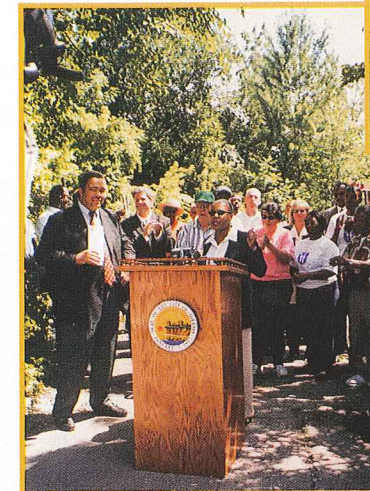

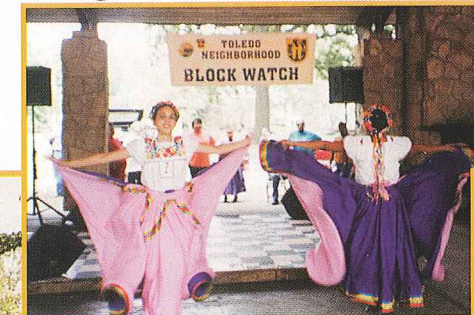

In 2002, PAL boxers traveled to Kansas City to compete in the Ringside National Boxing Tournament. One of our boxers, Allen Richardson, won his division and was crowned the 2002 Ringside National 156 lb. Novice Champion. In September 2003 the Toledo Police Department PAL Program will host the National PAL Boxing Tournament.

The RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Patrol) is one way that citizens of Toledo assist the police department. Participants in the program volunteer to go out into the community and check on the safety of disabled and senior citizens. RSVP personnel also perform vacation house checks for residents of Toledo. In 2002 the program added a second vehicle, which enabled an additional team of volunteers to go out and visit clients.

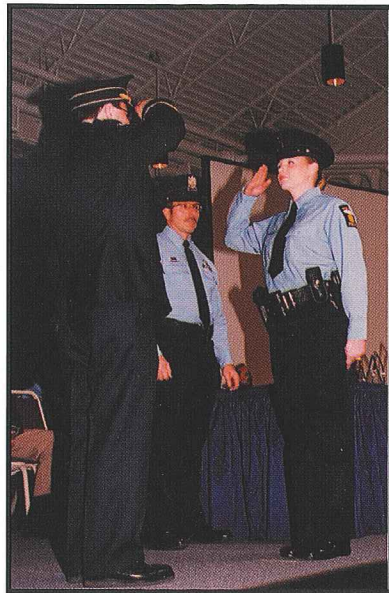

Our Community

Showing a continuing commitment to the Block Watch program, Chief Navarre assigned Sergeant Sharon Cook to oversee the program. With this renewed commitment, the Block Watch program showed a resurgence with 40 new groups joining the program in 2002.

"A Day Of Remembrance," a community-wide event, was held on September 11, 2002, at Fifth Third Field. The event was held to remember those who lost their lives in the 2001 terrorists attacks and to honor those who assisted the victims and their families. Among those attending this event were University of Toledo Police Chief John Dauer, Toledo Police Chief Michael Navarre, Leena Hammuda, Toledo Fire Chief Michael Bell and Lucas County Sheriff James Telb.

Police Academy

The Toledo Police Academy, is responsible for the training of new police recruits. The Police Academy graduated the 54th police class on April 12, 2002, and commenced the 55th police class in December of 2002.

New recruits, or "trainees," are put through a rigorous 26-week police academy. Some areas covered during the academy are criminal and traffic codes, report writing, accident investigation, physical fitness, defensive tactics, and firearms training.

54th Basic Police Academy graduation

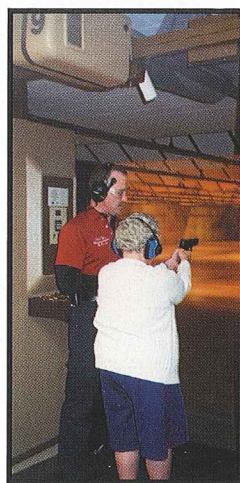

The Training Section is also responsible for the continued training of police personnel. In 2002, in-service training for officers included a defensive tactics update, a continuation of the wellness program and the annual firearms qualifications.

The 6th Citizen Police Class

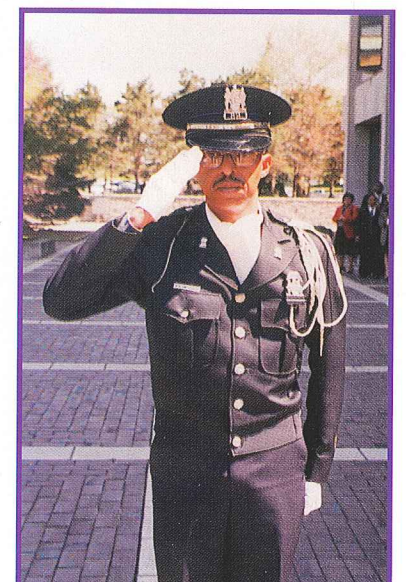

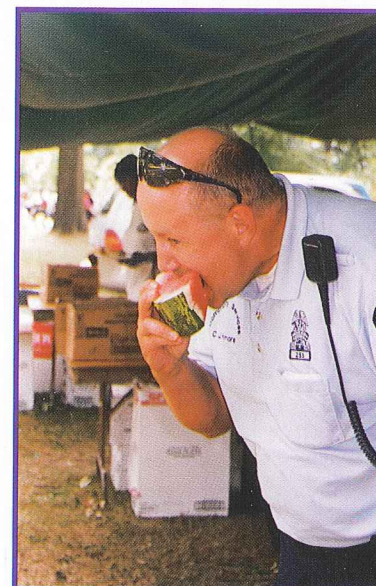

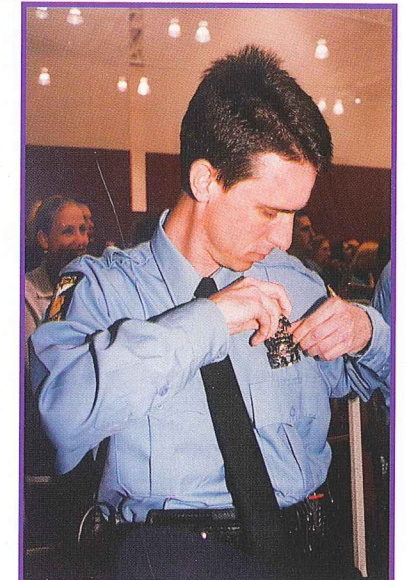

The Training Section also offers citizens of the Toledo area a Civilian Police Academy. This condensed, ten-week course offers citizens a brief insight into what it takes to become a Toledo Police Officer. During the academy, students are introduced to Community Policing, the K-9 Unit, police ethics, discipline policy and philosophy, criminal and traffic law, communications, and drug enforcement and education. A ride-along with street officers is included.

...These Officers Shall Not Be Forgotten

In Memoriam

Officer John Kulmatycki

Officer John Kulmatycki joined the Toledo Police Department in December 1990. He spent his years on the department working "street patrol" in the Operations Division. During his tenure, Officer Kulmatycki received the Professional Service Award, was Patrol Officer of the Month in April, 2002, and received numerous commendations and letters of appreciation from public officials and the citizens of the City of Toledo. Illness forced John to retire on April 16, 2002. He passed away several months later. He will be greatly missed.

Civilian Adrienne Whelton

In November of 2000, Civilian Adrienne Whelton was hired to work as a Toledo Police Department Data Entry Clerk. During the short time she worked for the department she made a lasting impact on her coworkers. Sadly, in the winter of 2002 it was discovered that Adrienne was out of remission. Adrienne passed away from carcinoma on September 25, 2002. She will always be remembered for her positive outlook on life.

Retired police detective, George Wagner, has a quest to improve the Police Memorial Garden. Through his diligence, the area around the garden is currently being repaired by the city. In September 2002, thirty granite headstones were placed in the garden honoring officers of the Toledo Police Department killed in the line of duty.

Law Enforcement Code of Ethics

As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality, and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of the police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession - Law Enforcement.
