3 Policemen Shot In Battle, Father Of 4 Wounded After Threatening To Kill Family

Officers Use Tear Gas As Man Goes Berserk

Son Rushes Out Of Home To Warn First Cruiser To Reach Scene

Three policemen were wounded yesterday by a shotgun-wielding man who went berserk and threatened to kill his family of five during an argument in his home. The father was shot and wounded by police as he tried to escape.

The wounded policemen are:

Patrolman Donald Brown, 32, of 3536 Golfgate Dr., in critical condition with wounds of the face, head and body.

Patrolman Frank Hays, 39, of 2127½ Putnam St., in fairly good condition with wounds of the head, face and legs.

Patrolman William Boyle, 31, of 2534 Oak Grove Pl., in serious condition with face and head wounds. He is the brother of Patrolman Walter P. Boyle, who was killed last December in a gun battle with an East Side parolee.

All three officers are in St. Vincent's Hospital.

In Mercy Hospital under police guard is Oliver Nickerson, 52, of 1912 North 14th St., charged with shooting with intent to kill. He received face and shoulder wounds and was in good condition.

How It All Started

Members of Nickerson's family and police gave this account of the family argument and ensuing battle:

Nickerson arrived home about 4:30 p.m., after getting off work at 3 p.m. He is a porter at the A&P Bakery, 719 Brown Ave., where he had worked 10 years. He stopped on the way home to drink.

Nickerson went upstairs in the apartment and began beating a son, Oscar, 17. Nickerson's wife, Lucille, 50; a daughter, Luellen, 19, and two other sons, Joe, 27, and Waymon, 22, tried to dissuade the father.

Nickerson again struck Oscar, knocking him unconscious. He also struck Luellen on the face and head. He threatened to kill the entire family, and took a shotgun from his bedroom. Mrs. Nickerson told Waymon to phone police, which he did, using the phone in the apartment.

By the time police arrived, all the family, except Nickerson, had left the apartment. Mrs. Nickerson and Luellen took refuge at the Black & White Cab Co., 1902 North 14th. The sons went outside.

Warns Police

The first police car on the scene was that of Patrolmen Hays and Boyle. As they stopped across the street from the Nickerson home, Joe Nickerson ran to their car.

Later, Patrolman Boyle said, "That kid (Joe) saved our lives. If he hadn't run up to tell us that his dad was drunk and had a shotgun, he (Nickerson) would have gunned us both down."

While Patrolman Boyle radioed for more help, Patrolman Hays approached the entrance walk of the house. He called to Nickerson to drop the shotgun. Nickerson fired. Patrolman Hays, who was partially protected by a tree, was struck by the blast.

Patrolmen Brown and Kenneth Bennett arrived in another car. Patrolman Brown ran up and fired into the house from behind a parked car. As he did, Nickerson again fired, felling Patrolman Brown. Patrolman Boyle was hit a moment later as he crouched behind one of the patrol cars.

A dozen more policemen converged on the scene, guns drawn. Sgt. Ralph Mowka fired a tear gas pellet through a front window of the apartment. Choking from the fumes, Nickerson fled to the back door.

At least six policemen were waiting for him in the back yard. From the back porch, Nickerson aimed his shotgun at Patrolman Roy Maier. As he did, Nickerson was brought down by a shotgun blast fired by Patrolman Richard Dandino.

On the scene, in charge of the police, was Chief Anthony A. Bosch.

Police said Nickerson had no previous police record.

Waymon Nickerson said the family argument started when his father attempted to discipline Oscar for staying out late at night and for associating with a bad crowd of boys.

The daughter, Luellen, was treated in St. Vincent's Hospital for injuries she suffered at her father's hands.

Attendants at St. Vincent's Hospital said a dozen shotgun pellets were imbedded in the wounds suffered by Patrolmen Boyle and Hays. Patrolman Brown was struck by 40 pellets, they said.

Chief Bosch said doctors at the hospital advised him that Patrolman Brown's brain was struck by at least two pellets.

Patrolman Boyle's family was told last night that one pellet had passed through an eye and two had lodged in his brain.

First Gun Battle For All 3 Victims

None of the three policemen who were shot had previously been involved in a gun fracas, according to Sgt. Joseph Steel, in charge of the police personnel records.

Patrolman Hays has been a member of the police division the longest. He was appointed Jan. 2, 1950. He is divorced and has one son.

Patrolman Brown was appointed to the force Sept. 16, 1955. His wife's name is Marilyn. They have no children.

Patrolman Boyle joined the force Nov. 1, 1959. He and his wife, Marge, have two children, Kathy, 8, and Michael, 10.

Discipline Of Son Led To Shooting

Man Who Wounded Policemen Says Boy Had Stolen Cherries

"Don't call the police or I'll kill 'em all."

That's what Oliver Nickerson said he told his wife, Lucille, while whipping his son, Oscar, 17.

The husky man told her not to interfere as he continued to discipline the boy for what he said was stealing cherries from a tree near the Nickerson home on North 14th Street.

But Mrs. Nickerson told another son to place a call to police headquarters.

Began Shooting

When police arrived, Nickerson started shooting.

Talking in Mercy Hospital to a Blade reporter, Nickerson told this story:

He was in the hallway when the police car drove up. He had his 12-gauge shotgun.

"I fired out the front door as they got out," he said. "I don't know if I hit anyone. I started shooting and just kept shooting. I don't know how many times. "I don't know who shot me, but I know it was a policeman as they were the only ones shooting back."

Resented Interference

Why did he fire at the policeman?

"I don't want you messing with my stuff, and I won't mess with yours. That's the kind of guy I am. I wasn't going to be interfered with."

He said he was whipping his son for taking the cherries and "wasn't raising the boy to be a thief. I don't go for that."

Crowds Risk Lives To Get 'Front Seat' At Police Battle

Guns Bark, Sirens Wail, Gas Swirls While Spectators Hamper Officers

It could have been a circus scene but for the blood-stained men, the odor of swirling tear gas, the house at 1912 North 14th St. being peppered by gunfire from police.

Hundreds of spectators, risking their lives for a first-hand view of the exchange of shots that wounded three policemen and an enraged father, raced from car to tree, house to house, exposing themselves and hampering the efforts of police to flush Oliver Nickerson, 52, from his home.

Patrolman Frank Hays, the first to be hit by Nickerson as he approached the house, still lay behind a large tree, refusing to be moved "until we get him."

Goes Down Fighting

Inside the house, its windows blasted by gunfire, Nickerson staggered to the back door, gun in hand, leveled the weapon at another policeman and was knocked down by a shotgun charge.

Sirens wailed as ambulances sped the injured policemen, each felled by a shot from Nickerson's gun, to St. Vincent's Hospital.

On the front porch of 1916 North 14th, Mrs. Lucille Nickerson sat talking with detectives, tearfully relating the chain of events that began with her husband attempting to discipline a son, Oscar, 17, and ended when Patrolman Richard Dandino fired the shot that felled him.

Sweating policemen, some of them stained with the blood of their fellow officers, ordered curiosity seekers away from the scene as crime laboratory technicians and photographers moved in.

Crowds Linger

Two hours after the first shot was fired, crowds still lined both sides of the street and filled the alley and a playground behind the house, talking among themselves, trying vainly to sort out fact from fiction.

An auto, its left front tire flattened by the same blast that critically injured Patrolman Donald Brown, sat across from the vacant house.

Another car owner whose auto bore a gaping hole in the roof, probably the result of a stray shot, shrugged philosophically.

5 Police Wounded, 1 Dead In Battles In 2½ Years

In the last 2½ years Toledo police have fought three gun battles with berserk gunmen.

The toll: five policemen wounded and one dead; two gunmen killed and one wounded; one bystander killed and one wounded.

At the scene of yesterday's battle was Patrolman Kenneth Bennett, 31, partner of Donald Brown, 32, who was injured critically.

Patrolman Bennett was wounded Jan. 7, 1960, in a battle at the Indiana Avenue YMCA with Essie Funches, 65, who was killed.

Also wounded were Patrolman Thomas Sass, 43, and two bystanders, one of whom, the Rev. Wade Pinkney, died of his wounds.

Funches, like the killer of Patrolman Walter Boyle, 29, who was shot to death on Dec. 8, 1961, had a history of mental illness.

The killer of Patrolman Boyle was Raymond Brothers, 30, who shot himself to death in the loft of a garage after he was surrounded by police.

Patrolman Boyle, whose brother, William Boyle, 31, who was wounded in yesterday's shooting, had gone to an East Toledo home to serve a warrant on Brothers, and pursued him into a nearby alley.

Police Battles

While the complete details of the shooting were never known, police believe Patrolman Boyle was ambushed while rounding the corner of a house, and felled by a shot in the forehead. Three more bullets were pumped into him while he was on the ground.

Two other Boyle brothers are on the force: Daniel Joseph and Regis Franklin.

Patrolman Boyle was the first policeman to die of gunfire since Detective Lt. John J. McCarthy was shot to death near the Safety Building on Jan. 7, 1947.

Lieutenant McCarthy and two other officers were bringing in three men, including a check forger, Edward G. Monnett.

As the car approached Erie and Jackson streets, Monnett pushed a pistol against Lieutenant McCarthy's head and said: "This is as far as we go. Stop the car or I'll kill all three of you."

In the shooting that followed, Lieutenant McCarthy, Monnett, and another of the suspects were killed.

Toledo Patrolman Dies Of Wounds In Gun Battle

Brown Succumbs; Murder Warrant Signed For Slayer

Patrolman Donald Brown died today in St. Vincent's Hospital of wounds inflicted Saturday in the exchange of gunfire between police and a berserk gunman.

Struck by 40 pellets from a shotgun, some of which entered his brain area, the 32-year-old patrolman, who lived at 3536 Golfgate Dr., battled for his life more than 60 hours, aided by an automatic breathing device.

The automatic respirator was inserted after the patrolman underwent an emergency tracheotomy (incision of the windpipe) after his breathing slowed.

Two other patrolmen, wounded in the fray outside of the home of the gunman, Oliver Nickerson, 1912 North 14th St., remained in St. Vincent's. Patrolman William Boyle, 2534 Oak Grove Pl., was listed in fair condition, and Patrolman Frank Hays, 2127½ Putnam St., in good condition.

Patrolman Boyle has lost the sight of his right eye as the result of his wounds.

Murder Warrant Signed

Nickerson, also wounded after he was forced to stagger from the house by tear gas, was confined to Mercy Hospital under police guard. His condition was listed as fair.

Detective Sgt. Andrew Janowski signed a warrant today charging him with first degree murder—the slaying of a policeman in the performance of his duty.

Police said while Nickerson was whipping a son, Oscar, 17, for stealing cherries from a neighbor's tree—the incident that culminated in the gun battle—he warned the rest of his family not to call police, threatening to "kill 'em all."

DONALD BROWN

Victim of gunman

Municipal Judge Robert V. Franklin, Jr., set June 22 at 9 a.m. for arraignment on the murder charge.

Patrolman Brown was the second policeman to die in the line of duty in six months. Patrolman Walter Boyle, 29, brother of William, was shot and killed last Dec. 8 in East Toledo. His slayer, Raymond Brothers, 30, later shot himself to death in the loft of a garage which had been surrounded by police.

Similar Battle In 1960

The gun battle Saturday recalled a similar shooting outbreak Jan. 7, 1960, at the Indiana Avenue YMCA in which two patrolmen were wounded. They were Patrolmen Thomas Sass, 43, and Kenneth Bennett, 31. Patrolman Bennett, at the scene Saturday, was a scout crew partner of Patrolman Brown.

Previous to the death of Patrolman Walter Boyle, the last Toledo policeman to be slain while on duty was Detective Lt. John J. McCarthy, who lost his life in a gun battle Jan. 7, 1947, outside of the Safety Building.

Patrolman Brown, son of the late Sgt. James F. Brown, assigned to the dispatcher's office, had been a policeman since Sept. 16, 1955. He was a lifelong Toledo resident. A graduate of Waite High School, he was a truck driver for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. before he joined the force.

Services Thursday

Surviving are his wife, Marilyn; his mother, Mrs. Zelma Brown, and brothers, James F., and Robert R., all of Toledo.

The body will be in the Bennett Mortuary, Secor Road, after noon tomorrow. Services will be at 11 a.m. Thursday in the mortuary, with burial in Woodlawn Cemetery. The Fraternal Order of Police will conduct rites at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Dear Chief McGrath:

Thank you for sending us a copy of the letter
you received from the Adult Parole Authority re:
Oliver Nickerson.

On November 19, we wrote to Governor John Gilligan regarding this man and enclosed is a copy of the reply we received. We certainly hope that the Governor does not parole this man before he leaves the Governor's office.

Thank you very much for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Hays:

Your letter dated November 19, 1974, directed to Governor John J. Gilligan, has been referred to this office for reply.

Possibly as a result of having worked with various police officers in various Ohio cities during the past 39 years, I find myself in general agreement with its contents.

This case was considered by the Ohio Parole Board in June, 1974, and on September 5, 1974, a negative recommendation was sent to the Governor's office.

Dear Mr. Snyder:

I would like to take this opportunity to voice my strong opposition to the parole of Oliver Nickerson, who is presently serving a life term for the killing of one of our police officers, Donald C. Brown, and the wounding of two other police officers, Frank Hays and William Boyle.

I am opposed to any parole for a convicted police killer, and particularly in light of the fact that the yearly homicide rate of police officers continues to rise. Past history has indicated that individuals of this sort, when released, have not, in fact, been rehabilitated, and in many cases, take up where they left off.

It is the earnest and sincere request of this department that you do whatever is within the powers of your office to recommend denial of Nickerson's appeal.

With deep gratitude,

Dear Governor Gilligan:

On June 12, 1962, Oliver Nickerson shot and killed Officer Donald C. Brown of this department. He also seriously wounded Sergeant Frank Hays of this department, and permanently injured another officer, who has since retired; i.e., the loss of one eye. Sergeant Hays still suffers from the injuries he received in this incident.

It has come to my attention that Oliver Nickerson has applied for parole. May I voice my strong opposition to any parole for a convicted police killer, and particularly in light of the fact that the yearly homicide rate of police officers continues to rise. Corrin J. McGrath
Chief of Police
Toledo, Ohio

Dear Chief McGrath:

Reference is made to correspondence I had with former Chief Robert Duck on January 16, 1974, and his respective reply to me on January 28, meaning via a carbon copy of his letter he sent to Mr. Nolan Snyder in Columbus, Ohio for us in regard to Oliver Nickerson. Copies of letters which, undoubtedly, are in Frank's file with the Police Department.

Oliver Nickerson shot and killed my first husband, Donald C. Brown, in June of 1962; seriously wounded Frank, my present husband; seriously and permanently injured Bill Boyle, ie., lose of one eye. Frank still suffers from the injuries he received in the incident.

Getting to the crux of this matter, Mr. Nickerson has applied for "clemency". As soon as we learned of this, we've enlisted everyone's help that we could by asking them to write letters to the Adult Parole Authority in Columbus, and the Governor. The response has been great from our friends and acquaintances in answer to our pleas for help in trying to keep this murderer behind bars where he certainly belongs for the rest of his natural days. You, Chief McGrath, even having been here in Toledo for such a short time know how high the crime rate is and about the constant revolving door for the criminals, et cetera. Therefore, I'm sure that you do not want a convicted murderer walking the streets of Toledo, or for that matter, any streets of any town. Everyone we have talked to feels the same way - they want their families to feel safe - and nowadays - the feeling is very tight.

Frank and I have been told by Chas. Marshall, local Parole Authority, that we may be present in Columbus for one of the hearings - but not the one where "Nickerson" would be present. We are waiting for a letter from Mr. Nolan Snyder advising us of the date so that we may hopefully attend and verse our objections in person.

As the new Chief of Police of Toledo, would you be kind enough to write a letter of protest on behalf of the Department, et cetera? The address is:

Mr. Nolan Snyder, Chairman of the Board, Adult Parole Authority, 1050 Freeway Drive North, Columbus, Ohio, 43229.

Governor John J. Gilligan, State House Bldg., Columbus, O., 43215

Dear Mrs. Hays:

It has been some time since you have written to me concerning the proposed parole of Oliver Nickerson. During the intervening time, I have been gathering additional facts and information, and at the conclusion of that investigation, I so thoroughly agreed with your position that I have not only written the letters you requested, but, in addition, have contacted several of the people involved in the corrections program in Columbus and have stated my views.

You can be assured of my continuing support in this matter, and when the issue once again arises, I will be happy to do my part.

Please accept my continuing best wishes to you and your husband, I know he is a fine police officer as well as a good man.

Dear Mr. Snyder:

I am taking this opportunity to express my disapproval of the parole of Mr. Oliver Nickerson who is presently serving a life term for the killing of one of our police officers, Donald C. Brown, and the wounding of two other police officers, Frank Hays and William Boyle.

At the time I was the Captain in charge of homicide and investigation, and I am aware that the shooting was done without any rhyme or reason.

It is my opinion that if parole is granted to this individual his return to society could result in the loss of other persons lives.

Dear Chief Duck:

This letter is in confirmation of my telephone conversation with your secretary this morning, regarding "Oliver Nickerson" applying for clemency. As you know, since you were in charge of the investigation at that time, he shot and killed my husband "Donald C. Brown"; shot and wounded my present husband, Sergeant Frank Hays, and wounded Bill Boyle. We understand from speaking with Mr. Chas. Marshall, local Parole Authority, that "Nickerson" has applied for clemency and it will go before the Parole Board in Columbus, possibly in late February.

Frank and I feel very strongly that this man should not be "let out" of prison, and should serve the rest of his natural life behind bars. Your cooperation, as Chief of Police of Toledo, Ohio, in writing a letter to the Parole Board would certainly carry some weight in their decision. You, better than anyone else, are aware of the high crime rate in Toledo and surrounding cities, and on behalf of the citizens of Toledo, a letter from you would certainly be a deciding factor toward a decision to not parole this man - Oliver Nickerson. We are asking for your support in your job as Chief of Police to protest his being paroled. We have been told that we can travel to Columbus and be present at this man's hearing, which, of course, we shall do at our physical and financial expense. Anything we can do to keep this murderer behind bars shall be done.

We understand that the Governor has the final "say-so" as to this man's future, irregardless as to what the Parole Board decides, as you know, being an attorney,

This Sunday, when we go to our separate churches, your's being Catholic and ours being Lutheran, we can say a prayer that this man is not put back into our society; regardless of our respective religion, we are all "God's Children".
