Our No. 19009 - Nathan King - O.P. No. 62986
ASSAULT TO ROB

Nathan King and Frank Mitchell pleaded guilty on November 24th, 1930, to Assault with Intent to Rob and were sentenced to serve a minimum term of twelve years in the Ohio Penitentiary. A few days later while being conveyed to the penitentiary Mitchell insisted on being permitted to use the lavatory on the train. When he had gotten in there he unlocked his hand cuffs and plunged through the glass in the window and escaped. While he was doing that King held the door so that the officers could not interfere and admitted that he intended to jump through the window in turn had he not been apprehended as he was putting one leg out the window. Mitchell never was found. The plea involved the robbery of John C. Iffland, cashier of the Farmers' & Merchants' Bank at Sylvania, Ohio, on February 25th. $1720 was secured in the robbery. At the time of the holdup the license number of the car in which the robbers made their getaway was secured by several persons, but no clue was obtained for several weeks. On March 8th, 1930, King in company with one Bert Walker and two women, were arrested in Akron, Ohio, following an automobile accident early in the morning.

Walker was an escaped convict from ~~the~~ Jefferson City, Missouri, having an unserved balance of thirty years against him. Almost immediately when he was arrested he drew a revolver and shot one of the police officers dead, and made his getaway. King ran when the shooting started but was recaptured the next morning. The police arrested King in his room on Lodi Street, Akron, Ohio. Walker was hiding under the bed. These men had a veritable arsenal in their room, but were surprised by a large force of police officers and surrendered without a struggle. Walker was tried for the shooting of Police Officer Manes and was electrocuted. The license plates that were used on the car in the Sylvania holdup were found in the room where King and Walker were arrested. They were both identified by victims of the robbery at Sylvania. Due to the long interval of time between the robbery and the time of trial it was thought best to accept a plea of Assault with Intent to Rob rather than run the risk of failure on the part of the witnesses to make a complete identification.

Our No. 19009 - Nathan King - O.P. 62986

These men were members of a particular <sup>bad</sup> bunch of gangsters. One member, Sam Stein, was not apprehended, but his pictures were identified in connection with the robbery. He, together with two other members, Sam Russick and Joe Coleman, were assassinated by other gangsters near Stillwater, Minnesota, last summer. Mitchell, who escaped from custody, is the only remaining member of the mob at large.

The small amount of money, $1720, that was secured, was due to the fact that one of the employees threw the vault door shut when the robbers entered the bank and put on the time lock. For this both King and Mitchell threatened to shoot him and would probably have done so had it not been for the fact that a witness across the street spread the alarm and the fire siren near by was blown almost immediately.

King has a prior criminal record for bank robbery. We believe that this man at the very least should be required to serve the minimum sentence imposed by the court.

SYLVANIA BANK BANDITS GIVEN TERMS IN PEN

NOV 25 1930
Judge Gives Last Members of Gang 12 Years in Penitentiary for Hold Up.

The last chapter in the history of the bandit gang that held up the Farmers and Merchants bank at Sylvania was written Monday afternoon in common pleas court when Judge Charles Milroy pronounced a minimum sentence of 12 years in the Ohio penitentiary for Frank Mitchell and Nathan King.

Bert Walker, who also was identified in the holdup, was electrocuted in the penitentiary Nov. 10 for the murder of an Akron patrolman.

Gangland was responsible for the deaths of three other members of the band although they were not connected with the Sylvania bank holdup. Cecil Stickney, assistant county prosecutor, told the court.

Mitchell and King, through their attorney, John Hackett, withdrew their plea of not guilty to a robbery charge and pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rob. The bank was robbed on Feb. 5, 1930, of $1,720.

Shortly before Mitchell was arraigned, he made a break for liberty from the county jail, but was captured in front of the Elks' club by deputy sheriffs and police. He was in the jail barber shop and slipped out with a group of visitors when Deputy Sheriff A. C. Allyn opened the jail door.

Deputies Joe Packo and Allyn and Bert Williams, who was in the jail office, chased the prisoner who ran in Jackson street to Michigan street. As the fugitive neared the Elks' club Detective Arthur Langendorf, Phil Birkenhauer, marriage license clerk, and Bert Thompson, clerk at the jail, were leaving the building. They also took up the chase.

Mitchell ran across the street toward the courthouse. He was puzzled when he saw man run out of the courthouse and headed back to Michigan street. The man who ran from the courthouse was running for a street car and knew nothing of Mitchell's escape. Mitchell was blocked by two automobiles and was captured.

Mr. Stickney asked that the indictment against William Powell, who also had been arrested in Toledo in connection with the holdup, be nolle. Mitchell and King were arrested in Akron.

said, a citizen who was in the bank at the time of the holdup picked Powell from a lineup of prisoners. "You want to make sure, brother," Powell told his accuser. "I am sure," said the citizen. "You poked two guns at me in the bank—I'd know you anywhere."

When the identification was made Powell was charged with robbery. He then was taken to Judge Stuart's court where his attorney, Ira Bame, was protesting against his being held on the charge of being a fugitive from justice and with being a suspicious person.

Judge Stuart held that the bond of $10,000 fixed on the suspicious person charge was excessive and ordered it reduced to $500. He ordered that the fugitive charge be disposed of as soon as possible.

Detective William Rogers produced a warrant charging bank robbery and Judge Stuart remanded the prisoner to jail. Police Judge Ira Cole fixed Powell's bail at $20,000.

Two others, Frank Mitchell and Nathan King, alleged gunmen arrested in Akron, have been identified as having taken part in the Sylvania bank robbery.

Powell was arrested here last Friday by Detectives Ford and Green with Jack Theo, 28, and Art Masseur, 22, both of 1320 Jackson street, during a roundup of alleged robbers. Theo and Masseur were bound over to the grand jury on the charge of possessing burglar tools.

Bank Robber Suspect Held To Grand Jury

William Powell, 39, of Logan street, charged with robbery in connection with the holdup of the Farmers and Merchants bank, Sylvania, Feb. 5, was bound over to the grand jury Friday when arraigned in police court. Bond was fixed at $10,000.

The accused man was bound over after Chris Rumpf, Adrian, Mich., witness of the bank robbery, pointed him out in the courtroom as one of the five men who held up the bank.

The cases of two other men, Nathan King, 39, Springfield, Mo., and Frank Mitchell, 19, Kansas City, also charged with robbery in connection with the same holdup, were continued until May 27.

said to be the hangouts of a safe-burglary gang here. Powell was charged with being a suspicious person following the raids. The others, Jack Theo, 28, and Art Masseur, 22, both of 1320 Jackson street, have been bound over to the grand jury on charges of possessing burglar tools.

Attorneys for Powell instituted habeas corpus proceedings, and a hearing was set for Thursday at 1:30 p. m. Powell was identified in connection with the holdup just before he was taken to Judge Roy Stuart's common pleas court room for the hearing.

Judge Stuart held that a $10,000 bond fixed on the suspicious person charge was excessive and ordered it reduced to $500. Then Detective William Rogers brought a warrant into the court room charging Powell with bank robbery.

Police Judge Ira Cole fixed the bail for Powell at $20,000.

SYLVANIA BANK HOLDUP SOLVED

Three Positively Named as Bandits; Partial Identification of Fourth Made

Police Friday believed the $2000 holdup of the Farmers' & Merchants' bank at Sylvania, Feb. 5, virtually had been solved with the positive identification of three men now under arrest here and the partial identification of a fourth man who is under sentence of death in Akron, O., for murder.

William Powell, 39, arrested here by police a week ago, was identified late Thursday as the third member of the gang of bandits who robbed the bank. Frank Mitchell, 21, of Kansas City, and Nathan King, 37, of Springfield, Mo., who were brought here last week from Akron, had been identified positively earlier in the day.

King and Mitchell were arraigned before Police Judge Ira Cole Friday, but their case was continued to May 27. They are charged with robbery, and Judge Cole, upon request of Prosecutor Art Brunskill, set bond at $25,000 each.

MAKE IDENTIFICATION.

Lynn Bischoff, assistant teller at the bank; Edward C. Jacobs, assistant cashier, and Walter Day and Russell McGlenn, customers, made the identifications.

Powell had been held under $10,000 bond on fugitive charges from Albion, Mich., and Tampa, Fla., and as a suspicious person. Attorneys had instituted habeas corpus proceedings which would have taken Powell out of jail Thursday afternoon when Detective William Rogers brought a warrant to Judge Roy Stuart charging Powell with bank robbery.

$20,000 BOND SET.

Powell then was remanded to jail on $20,000 bond.

Bert Walker, who with Mitchell and King was arrested in Akron, O., a month ago, was partially identified by bank employees at the Akron jail. Walker was sentenced last Saturday to die in the electric chair for the murder of an Akron policeman.

SUSPECT NAMED IN BANK HOLDUP

Powell Is Identified by Victim of Sylvania Robbery.

While he was seeking release from jail through a habeas corpus proceeding in the courtroom of Common Pleas Judge Roy Stuart Thursday afternoon, William Powell, 39, Logan street, was arrested as one of the bandits who held up the Farmers & Merchants bank in Sylvania, Feb. 5.

The hearing was set for 1:30 P. M. and a short time previously, police

HOLDUP SUSPECTS BROUGHT TO TOLEDO

Pair Held at Akron in Sylvania Robbery To Be Tried Here.

Nathan King, 27, of Springfield, Mo., and Frank Mitchell, 21, of Kansas City, were brought to Toledo from Akron, early Tuesday by Detectives John Hovey and Frank DeLora to face charges of robbery in connection with the holdup of the Farmers' & Merchants' bank at Sylvania, two months ago.

They are held on suspicion at the Safety building.

The two men were identified several weeks ago by employees of the bank after their arrest in a raid by Akron police. They have been held at Akron as material witnesses in the case of Bert Walker, escaped Missouri convict, who was found guilty Saturday of first-degree murder in the slaying of an Akron policeman.

Walker, also, was wanted here for the bank robbery.

TWO IDENTIFIED AS SYLVANIA BANK BANDITS

Four Pick Pair, Arrested in Akron, From Line-Up at Safety Building

Two suspected gunmen, Frank Mitchell, 21, and Nathan King, 37, brought here from Akron, O., Tuesday, were identified positively Thursday as members of the gang of five bandits who held up the Farmers' & Merchants' bank at Sylvania, O., Feb. 5 and escaped with $2000.

Mitchell is from Kansas City and King from Springfield, Mo.

The men were picked from a lineup in the Safety building by four victims of the holdup—Lynn Bischoff, assistant teller, and Edward C. Jacobs, assistant cashier, and Walter Day and Russell McGlenn, customers.

King and Mitchell were arrested in Akron, March 9, in connection with the slaying of Patrolman Harold Manes. Bert Walker, their alleged leader, who also was identified as one of the Sylvania bandits, is awaiting sentence for the murder of Manes. He was found guilty Monday in Akron.

King previously had been identified partially as one of the bank bandits and both King and Mitchell were eliminated as suspects in two major Toledo crimes—the slaying, March 2, of William J. Malone, Standard Oil Co. night watchman, and the murder two years ago of Patrolman George Zientara.

Identified As Bank Robbers

Two Of Trio Arrested At Akron In Connection With Slaying.

Three members of the band that staged the $2,000 robbery of the Farmers' & Merchants' bank at Sylvania, Feb. 5, were picked from a line-up of police suspects at the Safety building Thursday.

The men identified by victims of the robbery were, according to police, William Powell, 39, Logan street; Frank Mitchell, 21, Kansas City, and Nathan King, 37, Springfield, Mo. All will be arraigned in police court Friday on charges of robbery.

The identifications were made by Lynn Bischoff, assistant teller; Edward C. Jacobs, assistant cashier, and Walter Day and Russell McGlenn, customers of the bank.

King and Mitchell were arrested March 9 in Akron in connection with the slaying of Patrolman Harold Manes. They were brought to Toledo Tuesday after Bert Walker, who police say was their leader and also has been identified in the Sylvania robbery, was found guilty of slaying Manes.

Powell was arrested a week ago when Detectives Owen Green and James Ford and members of the city vice squad raided what they

3 Indicted As Bank Robbers

Powell, King, Mitchell Blamed For Raid At Sylvania.

Indictments charging robbery were returned by the Lucas county grand jury Wednesday against William Powell, Nathan King and Frank Mitchell in connection with the holdup of the Farmers' & Merchants' bank at Sylvania, Feb. 5, in which $1,720 was stolen. Five men took part in the holdup.

Powell was arrested in Toledo, King and Mitchell, in Akron.

Bert Walker, alias Bob Randall, reputed escaped Missouri convict and identified as one of the robbers of the bank at Sylvania, was convicted May 17 at Akron of a first degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of Patrolman Harold F. Manes.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Trio, Arrested in Sylvania Bank Holdup, Before Judge Stuart.

William Powell, Frank Mitchell and Nathan King pleaded not guilty Monday when arraigned before Common Pleas Judge Roy R. Stuart on the charge of bank robbery in connection with the holdup of the Farmers' & Merchants' bank, Sylvania, last February.

Burkett Hensar pleaded guilty to theft of clothing, a watch and pistol, all valued at $1997, from the store of Abdon Sabbagh, 717 N. Erie street.

Dear Chief:-

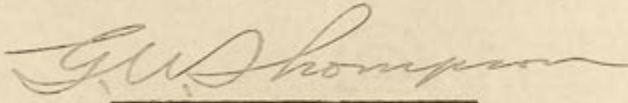

We would be greatly obliged to you, if you would advise us the disposition of the case against Robert Amos, alias Nathan King your gallery #21457 arrested for the holdup of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Sylvania Ohio.

We understand that Charles Arthur Floyd alias Frank Mitchell your gallery #21458 partner of Amos made good his escape early last month from Deputies who were taking him to prison.

Thanking you in advance for what information you may be able to supply us on these two prisoners and wishing you and your Department a Happy and Prosperous New Year, we beg to remain

Yours very truly,

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of the twentieth instant concerning Robert Amos your No. 21457 and Charles Arthur Floyd your No. 21458, would state

Robert Amos as John King No. 19972, was arrested at Akron, Ohio March 3rd, 1930 charge investigation.

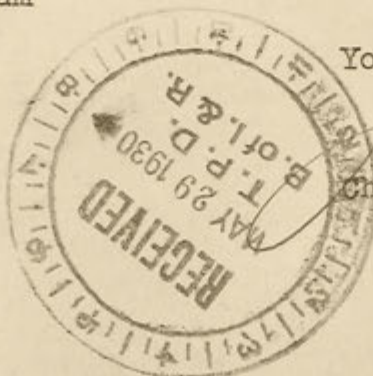

Charles A. Floyd as Frank Mitchell No. 19983 arrested at Akron O. March 3rd, 1930 for investigation. Above two men together with one Bert Walker and a woman named Nellie Denny held for the shooting of an Akron O. Police Officer who died. They had in their possession one Winchester Rifle Model 54, chambered for the 30-06 Shell, several 45 caliber revolvers, a large supply of cartridges for all arms, some nitro glycerine, caps and dropper. Also had rubber gloves, tear gas shells and one Thompson Machine Gun. We have no additional record of them. We requested that Akron be sure to furnish us with disposition of their cases there but up to this time have not received same..

I am

Yours truly,
